Beckstoffer Las Piedras Vineyard

Located at the foot of Spring Mountain in St. Helena, the Beckstoffer Las Piedras Vineyard marks the first site ever produced by Fait-Main. The foreign outcrop of stony, tough soil in the middle of a typically soft and rich valley floor, presents more like Bordeaux than St. Helena.

Tracing its roots back to the original Mexican land grants, Las Piedras vineyard is thought to be the first planted in what is now the St. Helena AVA. Farm workers aptly named the vineyard Las Piedras, which translates to the stones in Spanish.

The richly layered palate that each vintage has expressed thus far, shows the site's compelling interplay of fruit and structure, bound together with graceful minerality.

With this quintessentially Napa 2024 vintage, we are proud to unveil our newest artist label release featuring the bold work of Donald Sultan. Known for his striking, graphic compositions, Sultan transforms poppies, lemons, and mimosas into powerful contemporary icons through rich color and dramatic contrast. Our single-vineyard wines are once again presented in our custom-crafted Fait-Main bottles — a seamless union of artistry, texture, and craftsmanship.

Vintage Notes

Marked by a more classic growing pattern, Napa Valley's 2024 season combined ample early rainfall, a warm and steady summer, and a defining early October heat event that helped shape the vintage's character. Favorable spring conditions and healthy canopies supported even development across the vineyards, while warm days and cool nights preserved freshness and structure in the fruit. A slightly compressed harvest created stylistic nuance across sites. The resulting 2024 wines show classic Napa Valley depth and polish — open, opulent, and expressive — yet anchored by surprising tannic grip and balance, marking the vintage as both high-quality and distinctly traditional in style.

Tasting Notes

The 2024 Fait-Main Beckstoffer Las Piedras Vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon reveals blackcurrant, dark cherry, and blackberry layered with violets, graphite, and crushed stone. Full-bodied and commanding, the palate carries remarkable density, framed by sculpted tannins and the vineyard's signature mineral tension. Powerful yet impeccably composed, it finishes with resonant notes of dark fruit, cocoa, and refined spice.
